Dear Families,

We are pleased to share that yellow bus service will continue uninterrupted. We understand how important these services are to families, and your child's education and well-being remain our top priority. We remain committed to working with our bus companies to reach a long-term resolution.

We appreciate that the bus companies are ensuring students' uninterrupted access to education, and we are grateful to all the families and advocates who came together with us to help plan ahead in case of any disruptions.

Thank you for your patience and understanding during this period.

In partnership,
